NO PROPOSED CAP ON ENROLLMENT IN THE HEALTHY FAMILIES PROGRAM

As part of the May Revision to the Budget released May 11, 2004, Governor Schwarzenegger has withdrawn the proposed cap on enrollment for the Healthy Families Program (HFP). The administration has fully funded the number of children that MRMIB anticipates will be enrolled in the program in 2003-04 and 2004-05.

IVR Enhancement Provides Application & FAX Status to Clients

HFP has enhanced our IVR (Interactive Voice Response) System for Eligibility and FAX receipt.

Recently, HFP implemented a new option in the IVR system which allows clients to stay informed regarding the status of their application and eligible persons. When a client calls in and is verified, the SPE and HFP IVR application asks them if they would like to check the status of their application. We can now let them know where in the HFP process the current application is as well as the date the application was received and effective dates of those eligible by birth date. If there is more than one eligible person, we prompt them to press "1" for additional information. If forwarded to Medi-Cal we can let the caller know what county office the application was forwarded to and the office's telephone number. Applicants can also verify the last FAX received by date. When the applicant enters "1" for personal information, the option "3" will repeat back the last FAX received by date.

This enhanced feature improves the efficiency of the exchange that previously required agent intervention. The IVR is designed to put information at our clients' fingertips, and we are always looking for ways we can improve the flow of documents and information in and out of HFP.

Team Member Profile

Each newsletter we profile a member of the team to help personalize the HFP.

'Mke' Koshcheyev

Mike (whose last name is pronounced Koshey'-ef) is one of three EE/CAA liaisons. Born in the city of Pushkino, about 20 minutes from Moscow, Russia, he has called the United States home since 1991. Most of his relatives are still in Russia, but his parents are local. About two years ago, Mike spent a month in Russia. His relatives took him all over Moscow, the Red Square and various museums. "The month went very quick", Mike remembers. Another month in Russia is being planned for later this year.

When asked about his main interests, Mike had a quick answer: "Sports". Specifically, basketball is his main interest and he is a Lakers fan. [EDITOR'S NOTE: interesting for someone living in Kings country]. He also spends winters snowboarding with friends at Squaw Valley (home of the 1960 Olympics) and summers wave-boarding in a local lake.

"I also like Import Cars", Mike added. This month he bought a 2000 Honda Civic SI Coupe project car (the SI model was only produced during 1999 and 2000) and start converting it into something awesome. New suspension, wheels, a turbo and other "goodies" are in the plans. Once the car is done (as anyone who has built such a car knows, you are never really "done"), Mike would like to enter it in some of the numerous car shows prevalent in the state. "Of course", he adds, "this all depends on availability of time and funds". He would like to get a couple of local sponsors to help him financially.

Where Can an EE or CAA get Help When Needed?

As CAA's, you play a vital role in helping families all over the State of California obtain the Health Care they not only need, but deserve. But whom can you turn to when you have questions or need assistance? Effective January 1, 2004, the State of California re-instated the EE/CAA Help desk to provide support to Enrollment Entities (EE's) and Certified Application Assistant's (CAA's). The Help Desk answers questions relating to general income calculation, family size or composition, general enrollment qualifications, etc.

The Help Desk provides information regarding Invitation to Participate (ITP) registration, upcoming training and how CAA's and EE's can obtain Healthy Families Handbooks and Applications. The Help Desk also provides pre-registration for trainings throughout the State, creates CAA certificates, and maintains the EE/CAA Database which contains all EE and CAA information.

You might be thinking to yourself: Well this is great information, but what about the calls that I'm receiving from applicants whom I have helped, but have not heard anything about their case? CAA's should always encourage the applicants to call the Healthy Families Program applicant call center at 1-800-880-5305 (new applications or pending applications) or 1-866-848-9166 (Families already enrolled in the Healthy Families Program) Monday thru Friday from the hours of 8:00AM to 8:00PM and Saturdays from 8:00AM to 5:00PM.

Additionally, the Interactive Voice Response (IVR) system is fully operational and is monitored regularly to ensure the best performance from the system. The IVR is the first option for applicants when they call. The system gives the option to speak with a live person if the applicant is not able to obtain the information they are looking for through the automated system. The average wait time to speak with a representative has been from 1-2 minutes. While on hold, the system will give the option to go to voicemail after 3 minutes, and should the caller be on hold for 5 minutes, they will automatically go to voicemail. Typically, the hold time tends to be a little longer on Mondays and Tuesdays. The best times to call are evenings after 5:00PM as well as Thursdays and Fridays after 3:00PM.

If the applicant or the CAA simply cannot get the help they need from the IVR or the call center, then the CAA may call the Help Desk at 1-800-279-5012. Please keep this in mind: The CAA Help Desk is not an applicant line. We cannot speak with applicants, even briefly, at this line. Therefore please do not give the Help Desk number to your clients or call the Help Desk with an applicant on the line to do a "conference or 3-way call".

The Help Desk will provide as much assistance as possible to CAA's and EE's, but please bear in mind the following: The Help Desk is prohibited from providing specific, confidential, eligibility information about a family or subscriber unless they have a signed authorization from the applicant /subscriber. Signed authorization can be submitted in writing with the paper application. On the Health-e-App transmittal there is a section available where the applicant can authorize the CAA to obtain information regarding their account. (Note: The Health-e-App authorization is valid only until the day that Healthy Families Program mails an eligibility determination to the applicant.)

If an application does not have an authorization on file, it sometimes creates a difficult situation because we understand you are trying to help your clients, but we have certain rules and limitations that dictate what information we can release to a CAA. But please rest assured that even if we cannot give you, as a CAA, information regarding a certain account, your case will not go unresolved. We will review the case and if we cannot find a resolution, we will forward the case to the appropriate department, whether it needs to go to Eligibility, Call Center for a call back, Program Review, Research and Appeals, or Annual Eligibility Review.

We ask that you please remain patient with us and remember that all of your hard work is truly appreciated not only by the Healthy Families Program, but also by the hundreds of thousands of children already enrolled.

In Home Supportive Services Income; who is the "Provider" and who is the "Recipient"?

If someone provides various services to a child (such as housecleaning or transportation) and for that service they receive Public Assistance payments for In Home Supportive Services (IHSS), how does HFP treat the income?

Generally, the HFP considers the recipient of income from a Public Assistance (PA) source (cash assistance, SSI/SSP, etc.) as a PA recipient. However, the person who provides IHSS service to a child and receives income from IHSS for that service is not the recipient of PA income. Instead, this person, who may be a family member or an outside provider, is the provider of IHSS service and the payment he/she receives from IHSS is countable earned income. This person is also included in the household size if they reside in the house with the child. The child, on the other hand, is considered to be the PA recipient and is not included in household size. Further, if the child receives their own separate income, it is not counted when determining HFP eligibility.

When reviewing the income documentation from IHSS, there are two persons identified on the pay check stub. The income for the person providing the care to the child and is being paid by IHSS will be listed on the pay stub as "Provider", not as the "Recipient".

Use of tax Schedule CFZ as income documentation

When the Federal Income Tax Form 1040 is used to verify self-employment income (income reported on line 12 of Tax Form 1040), it must be accompanied with a Schedule C, Profit and Loss from Business. This form is also valid income documentation for self-employment income when submitted with tax form 1040.

Schedule C -EZ is used by persons who are sole proprietors and are not claiming depreciation as a business expense. When using this form, the total business expenses cannot exceed $2,500. It should also be noted that the Schedule C - EZ does not have a separate line to report expenses for meals and entertainment. Therefore, HFP will not pursue or add back to line 12 of the tax form 1040 any depreciation, meals and entertainment expenses when the Schedule C-EZ accompanies the tax form 1040.

How are HFP Applications Processed?

What is a "Telephone Application"?

When a perspective applicant calls us, the IVR (Interactive Voice Response) system offers them an option for assistance with their application in the language of their choice. If the application assistance option is selected, the caller is given the option to call back during offpeak hours for a shorter wait. In addition, they are told what information will be needed to complete the application process on the phone. They then have the option to leave a voicemail with their name/phone number if they wish to hang up and gather the required information.

About 600 people select the application assistance option daily. These calls are routed to an agent who asks them if they can spend the next 20 minutes on the phone; if "no", they are asked to call back at a more convenient time and are given the hours of operation and if "yes", the agent will go through a documented script starting with a list of what the caller will need in order to proceed (also available on the website under "Apply by Phone"): pen/pencil, paper, pay stubs, birth dates, daycare expenses, child support / alimony paid or received.

The agent enters all information directly into the central computer. They also generate a Family Member Number (FMN) at this time.

Once all available information has been gathered, the application is routed to Mail Operations. Here, it gets printed and mailed to the applicant, along with a cover letter containing the applicant's new FMN and instructions on what do next, a copy of income guidelines, a copy of Medi-Cal disclosures (page 7 of the Joint App) and a Healthy Families Handbook.

The applicant had previously been told by the SPE agent that this package would be mailed to them and, when it is received, they will need to complete the plan options, review all information for accuracy, sign the application and return it with the first month's premium and proof of income.

Mail Operations sends about 100 of these mailings each day which means that a high number of the 600 people who initially chose this option in the IVR system opt not to continue it.

When the application is received, it is routed through the normal Healthy Families/Medi-Cal screening process. This new telephone assistance program now gives applicants three ways to apply: apply themselves, apply by phone or apply using the services of a CAA

Faxing Supporting Documents for Health-e-App Applications

Healthy Families has implemented an enhancement to make the Health-e-App process more efficient. There is now a way to automatically link faxed supporting documentation to an application. Our automated system will read the barcode at the top of the fax cover sheet and link all the documents in that fax transmission to one application. This increases both the speed and accuracy of the application process.

Please note that this process links every page in the fax transmission to the application DCN on the fax cover sheet. If you use the same fax cover sheet for multiple applications, or, you stack multiple sets of supporting documentation into one fax transmission, the supporting documentation may get linked to an incorrect application.

Remember to use the following tips when faxing any supporting documentation for a Health-e-App application:

- ◆ Use the fax cover sheet generated by Health-e-App as the 1st page in the fax transmission. Do not use another page as the cover sheet
- ◆ Make sure that every document in the fax is for the same application.

- Do not stack multiple sets of supporting documentation onto the fax machine and send these documents as one fax transmission.
- Always fax the supporting documentation on the same day that you submit the application.
- Make sure the Health-e-App fax cover sheet is oriented correctly in the fax machine (bar code in first, document face-up or facedown depending on the machine) so that it will be accurately read.

Your cooperation will help ensure that all Health-e-App applications are processed in a timely and accurate matter. Thanks for all your help!

New Application Mssing Information Analysis

135,000 Joint Applications were reviewed over a 4-month period (May—August 2004). Of the applications reviewed, it was found that:

- ♦ 68% of the applications that come to Healthy Families have some form of missing information.
- ◆ 52% of the applications determined to have missing information at HFP were never completed by the applicant

♦ 9% of applications received at Single Point of Entry do not have enough information to perform File Clearance (assign a CIN) or to screen to Healthy Families/Medi-Cal.
